

The Kings of Cilicia, the Condes de Aragon, and the Arm of St. Thecla: Armenians, Catalans, and the Mediterranean Relics Trade in the 14th Century

Dr. Rachel Goshgarian
Wednesday, February 6, 2019

Armenian Diocese | Guild Hall
630 2nd Avenue | New York | 7PM

Continuing the Zohrab Information Center's series on Migration, Dr. Goshgarian traces the trade in relics across vast distances during the 14th century. By following the relics, she presents exciting connections between the Armenian Kingdom of Cilicia and other parts of the Mediterranean world. This fascinating history, detailing the movement of both relics and people, adds greatly to our discussion of migration.

A RECEPTION WILL FOLLOW.

Dr. Rachel Goshgarian is Associate Professor in the Department of History at Lafayette College where she teaches courses related to medieval Anatolian and early Ottoman history. In addition to scholarly publications related to her area of research she co-authored an Armenian language textbook in Turkish. She has also previously served as the Director of the Zohrab Information Center

